LAUNCH OF RANDOM BABBLINGS!

Finally, here is my fist edition of Random Babblings, it took me much longer to compile than what I anticipated, you know with school and everything time comes at a premium. Have to have a social life too.

I had a wonderful summer, too bad it can't last forever, but hey all good things come in small packages.

One highpoint for me about this summer, was the return of Big Brother! I know it is kind of sad, but I love Big Brother and Dick really spiced things up this summer.

Did you see the guy's tattoos? He really needs a good tattoo artist, but I have to admit, I love his clothing. Wonder where he buys?

Dick From Big Brother 8
Tried to find a picture that shows off his tattoos better, but no luck, they are all copy wrighted

While on the subject of Big Brother, did you guys notice that all the men in Big brother have tattoos on their backs this year?

And Danielle ... wow, she's got the two stars on the hips.

I love finding out what the meanings of different tattoo designs are, and apparently, the stars on the hips means that you are a good lover, but only if it is this specific design. The star of David, Celtic stars or the pantograph, has different meanings.

LATEST FAD-TONGUE TATTOOS

People are always looking for fresh ideas on where to place a tattoo. I have heard of people that has tattoos on the sole of their feet, the palm of their hands, and other unimaginable places, but the latest fad is to get a tattoo on your tongue.

Because the tongue is just another muscle in your body, it will absorb tattoo ink the same way as any other location on your body.

Though kind of uncomfortable to sit with you mouth open for a prolonged period of time, (Kinda like at the dentist) a tongue tattoo can be placed at the tip of the tongue or deep at the back of the tongue. If you are really brave, you can have a tattoo that covers the whole tongue. Your tongue tattoo can also be complimented by a tongue piercing!

How interesting, I would never have thought of that!

THINGS YOU DO NOT WANT TO HEAR AT THE TATTOO SHOP

I was looking for a few good tattoo jokes to add to this newsletter, but most of the ones that I could find were a bit under the belt and not quite my style, but I did find these.

Enjoy them:

THINGS YOU DON'T WANT TO HEAR AT THE TATTOO PARLOR

* "Eagle? I thought you said BEAGLE."

* "We're all out of red, so I used pink."

* "There are 2 O's in Bob, right?"

* "Sorry, sir, your chest will only hold the bottle dinghy."

* "That call was for you. Hope you meet someone else named Tahiti Sweetie."

* "Gosh, I hate it when I get the hiccups."

* "Anything else you want to say? You've got plenty of room back here."

* "I'll bet you can't tell I've never done this before."

* "The flag's all done and you know, the folds of fat make a nice waving effect."

Bet this won't be you if you are on the receiving end ...

SPIDER'S STORY

*What I have gone through the last few years made me who I am, I won't change anything, because then I will not be who I am supposed to become:
- Spider*

She wants to be known only as "Spider." She is about 26 years old and is a very talented and well recognized artist in her community. She is currently attending college and her field of study is Electronic publishing.

Spider is originally from South Africa but moved to Canada with her family in 1995. She loves living in Canada.

Spider went through a rough time since 2000. She started having emotional problems and resorted to cutting to try to alleviate the emotional stress that she felt. One thing led to another and she ended up in the psychiatric ward in her local hospital for almost three years. (She is currently working on a book describing the whole ordeal and hopefully the book will be finished and on the shelves by late 2008). Believe me, it will be a worthwhile read. Just listening to the things that she describes, both funny and serious, makes you realize that after all these years things have not changed much with respect to the way mental health patients are perceived and treated.

Anyways, I am glad to report that Spider is currently doing very well, she is still seeing her therapist twice a month, and still has the occasional cutting episode, but nothing too serious. She believes that this whole experience has made her the person she is today, and helped her in exploring her inner self more and more by means of artful expression.

She is very successful in creating flash sheets on a freelance basis for a number of local tattoo shops and is also selling her art via local art galleries. (I hope that she will be so kind as to give me the opportunity to sell some of her art on my site at some point, cross your fingers.)

Here are just a couple of really nice designs by Spider. Please keep checking in on the site, because I am going to do a whole page just on Spider's art very soon. (Might even add some of her poetry!)

CELEBRITY NEWS

Did you know that Kat Van D (Miami Ink) now has her own tattoo show?

She left Miami Ink after there were a few disagreements between her and the guys.

They all agreed that it will be better for her to find an option better suited to her personality, and that is exactly what she did.

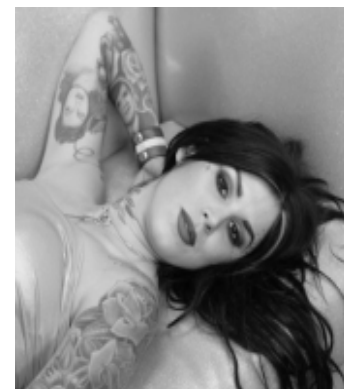

Her new show, L.A. Ink airs on TLC and is becoming very popular.

When asked about her experience at Miami Ink, Kat says that she has learned a lot at Miami, and that has enabled her to get her own studio and her own show.

Kat was born in Mexico and moved to the US (With her parents) when she was just 4 years old. Spanish is her first language.
